Elves and Their Cosy Homes

(5)

In the heart of the Misty Meadow, tiny elves live in cosy homes crafted from nature's treasures. Their houses are built inside hollow trees or under mushroom caps, decorated with soft moss and twinkling fireflies. Each morning, elves sweep their homes with feather brooms and polish their pebble tables with care. They take pride in keeping their homes tidy and cheerful. If a child leaves a tiny woven mat by the meadow, the elves might give back a glowing flower as a thank-you. Only those who respect homes and nature might hear the elves' joyful hums at dusk.

Answer the following questions:-

- 1 Where do the elves live?
- 2 What might elves give in return for a child's woven mat?
- 3 Who can hear the elves' hums?
- 4 What does the word "cosy" mean in the passage?
- 5) What is the singular form of "Elves"?
